Be part of the Healthcare Hero Lantern
Walk of Fame. $10 per lantern

In conjunction with Giving Tuesday 2022 you are invited to participate in our Evening of Gratitude event.

This fun outdoor family event is where you bring a vehicle and decorate it with a

Fall or Thanksgiving theme. There will be a contest to select the best decorated vehicle. Also, please provide prepackaged refreshments to share with the kids (i.e., treat, candy, etc.)

Paper lanterns will be for sale for $10 to create a "Healthcare Heroes Walk of Fame" to honor all medical professionals and first responders. Proceeds will benefit the Bexar County Medical Library Assoc. Maximum entries are 12 Circle of Friends sponsors. To participate please email bcms@bcms.org

The Corrosive Effect of Disruptive Behavior on Staff Morale and Patient Care

In any workplace, disruptive and negative behaviors can chip away at workers' confidence, erode trust in leadership and generally sour the working environment. Healthcare is no exception and disruptive behavior among healthcare providers and staff is a well-documented problem in various practice settings.

Tips for Recognizing and Solving Cash Flow Problems

There's more to financial reporting than profits. The statement of cash flows can be a powerful management tool. During an economic downturn, it's especially important for managers to monitor cash flows to detect and correct problems as soon as possible. Here's an overview of how this underappreciated report works and what to look for as you review it.

Should life insurance be in your business succession plan?

Life insurance can be an important way to protect your loved ones if something were to happen to you. But that's just one role it can play in your financial strategy. An often-overlooked use of life insurance is business succession planning. Here are three situations where this strategy might make sense.
